

Parallel Runway System SW Flow Corridors

These flight tracks are computer generated and represent the predominant aircraft flight patterns of aircraft arriving and departing from the airport for the modeling of noise contours. Actual flight tracks to and from the Southwest Florida International Airport are more numerous and some may deviate significantly from these modeled patterns.